

True Love
By Amy Gordon

You're always there when I need you.
Your soft touch gives me a warm feeling.
When I don't see you all day, I miss you.
I lose myself in you.
You embrace me and I feel totally safe.
How I love to fall into you!
When I see you across the room, my face lights up.
I never want to leave you in the morning, but I know I must.
You're not my first, but you're by far my best.
I feel totally comfortable around you.
Sometimes you change your looks, but you always stay the same inside, where it's important.
I love . . . my bed.

© 1998 Amy Gordon

Originally published in A Celebration of Poets, 1998